DUNN IS PUT ON TRIAL FOR WIFE MURDER

Jury Selected at Two O'clock and Opening Statements Are Made By Both Sides

40 EXAMINED FOR THE JURY

Prosecutor Says Deed Was Premeditated and Done With Malice, In Demanding Death Penalty

INSANITY DEFENSE PLEA

T. M. Green Says Evidence Will Show He Was Epileptic 15 Years Ago and Suffered Spells

Fred Dunn went on trial this morning in the circuit court on a charge of first degree murder, and the evidence was begun at two o'clock this afternoon, after the jury had been selected.

The jurors were selected after 40 men had been examined. Prosecutor A. C. Stevens in his opening statement to the jury, reviewed the facts in the case from the time that Dunn had married Cordelia Rucker, whom he killed, up until the night of September 18, when the fatal shooting occurred.

He attempted to impress upon the jury that the deed was committed with premeditation and was done with malice.

T. M. Green, attorney for Dunn, in his opening statement, asserted that the evidence would not be contradicted to a great extent. He stated further that there had been a crime committed in Arlington on that night, in which a human being was killed, and that two more lives were almost taken.

"The defense will show you," Mr. Green continued, "that Fred Dunn is and was a person of unsound mind. We will present testimony to show you that fifteen years ago he was an epileptic, suffering with spells, in which he was mentally deranged, and not responsible for his actions."

"We will present further testimony to show you that 13 years ago, Dunn was officially pronounced a person of unsound mind. These fits continued for many years off and on, and his mind would be in an unconscious mood, when upon his coming to, he wouldn't remember what had happened."

"Our testimony will show that on the night that he committed the crime in Arlington, that when on the operating table, physicians and surgeons will tell you, that he presented the appearance of being in an epileptic stage."

Following his remarks, Mrs. Bertha Leisure took the witness stand as the first witness for the state. The trial will continue for probably three days, as many witnesses will be examined by the state and defense.

The jury hearing the case is composed of the following: D. C. Aldridge, John F. Boyd, Will Roth, Mont Sefton, S. R. Newhouse, Seth Moor, Charles V. Carr, Mert Wolcott, E. A. Billings, Dan F. Kiplinger, Homer W. Cole and W. A. Caldwell.

Dunn was produced in court this morning at nine o'clock by Sheriff Jones. He did not seem to be any more concerned than if the charge against him was of minor importance.

After the jury box had been filled Prosecutor Stevens began questioning the jurors. Every man was asked the question concerning the death penalty. He was addressed with: "In a case where the person is charged with first degree murder, and you have been convinced that such is the case beyond a reasonable doubt, would your conscience permit you to inflict the death penalty on the guilty party?"

At first the jurors did not seem to grasp the real meaning of the question, and in order to enlighten them Judge Sparks explained that in a murder case of the first degree, the punishment was either death or life.

FRANK M'ILWAINE WINS

Rushville Man Elected Grand Junior Warden of Odd Fellows

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 16.—Frank McIlwaine of Rushville today was elected grand junior warden of Odd Fellows at the grand encampment here today. R. H. Hildebrand of South Bend became grand patriarch to succeed Orla A. Armfield of Elwood.

A telephone message received here this afternoon was to the effect that Mr. McIlwaine was successful on the second ballot. The remainder of the officers are filled by succession, a new grand junior warden being elected each year. This means the Rushville man will eventually become the grand patriarch.

CANDIDATES ARE NOT FILING STATEMENTS

Law Provides They Shall Make Strict Accounting of Expenses Of Their Campaign

ALLOWED 30 DAYS TO COMPLY

Candidates for office in Rush county are neglecting to file statements of their campaign expenses in the recent election, as provided by law, and are warned that they are subject to a fine if they do not comply with the statute. Successful candidates will not receive their commissions from the secretary of state until they file such a statement.

Up to date only seven candidates have lived up to the law. Even though they were defeated, candidates come under the terms of this law. They have only thirty days in which to comply with it. If a candidate did not spend a cent in the campaign, he is expected to make a sworn statement to that effect with the clerk of the court.

Some of the candidates have not as yet filed their statements of campaign expenses incurred in the primary election held last spring. This is especially true with unsuccessful candidates and it is very essential that they comply with the law as soon as possible.

Not only must the successful and unsuccessful candidates at the recent election file their expense statements, but the candidates of the primaries must also do so. In some cases it is reported that candidates had no actual expense other than a few postage stamps. However, others are said to have conducted expensive campaigns.

GREEK GOVERNMENT QUILTS AFTER DEFEAT

Dispatch From Athens Says Venizelos Cabinet Resigned Following Loss of Election

FORMER PREMIER DECLINES

(By United Press)

Paris, Nov. 16.—The Greek government has resigned, according to a dispatch received here from Athens. Premier Venizelos and his cabinet resigned as the result of the national election in which they were defeated. The regent summoned the former premier, George Thallis to form a new cabinet but he refused to undertake the task.

Athens, Greece, Nov. 16.—King Constantine, dethroned by the allies, may return to power as the result of the national election in which Premier Venizelos appeared to be defeated. The returns were incomplete today but the cabinet's first claim of victory appeared to be premature.

Two policemen were killed in the fighting between the two factions. Many arrests were made. The Venizelos government, will make no further combat but will turn over the national machinery to the opposing factions.

CORN SHOW PRIZES ANNOUNCED TODAY

Will Aggregate $718, Which Includes $75 Set Aside For Butter, Bread and Cakes Exhibit

INSTITUTE FEATURE ADDED

Program Will be Arranged For Afternoon of Closing Day to Include Talks and Music

Prizes aggregating $718 will be awarded at the county corn show and women's exhibit, to be held in Rushville December 29 and 30, according to the prize list which was made public today by the committees of the Rush County Farmers' association.

Because of the scope of the show and the fact that the women's exhibit was added, two days were set aside for the big event and some institute features were added.

The committees of the association are arranging for a program which will include some good talks and plenty of music which will be of interest to men and women alike. The program will be held on the afternoon of the closing day and at that time the prize winners will be announced and the results of the county five-acre corn contest will also be made public.

When plans were first made, it was intended to restrict the event to a corn show alone, but recently a decision was reached to offer prizes or the best butter, bread and cake exhibited by the women of Rush county, and $75 were set aside for this feature.

The total prizes in the county corn show proper will amount to $343, the biggest individual prize in which will be a silver loving cup valued at $50 to be offered as sweepstakes for the best ten ears of any color exhibited.

A loving cup worth $25 will be the prize in the single ear sweepstakes and first prizes of $25 each will be offered in the classes for the best ten ears of yellow and the best ten ears of white corn.

The exhibit will be under the management of the following committees:

Corn show—Will L. Brown, John W. Maury and D. D. Alexander; ladies department—Mrs. Bert Davison, Mrs. Fred Bell, Mrs. Cliff Winship and Mrs. Ora D. Henley.

The committees announce the following premium list for the men and women's exhibits:

Class A
10 ears yellow corn
First $25.00—Second $20.00—Third $15.00—Fourth $10.00—Fifth $5.00.

Class B
10 ears white corn
First $25.00—Second $20.00—Third $15.00—Fourth $10.00—Fifth $5.00.

Class C
10 ears mixed corn
First $15.00—Second $10.00—Third $5.00.

Class D
Single ear yellow corn
First $15.00—Second $7.50—Fourth $5.00—Fifth $2.50.

Class E
Single ear white corn
First $15.00—Second $10.00—Third $7.50—Fourth $5.00—Fifth $2.50.

Class F
Single ear mixed corn
First $5.00—Second $2.00—Third $1.00.

Sweepstakes
10 ears any color
$50.00 loving cup to be competed for annually.

Sweepstakes
Single ear, any color
$25.00 loving cup to be competed for annually.

In addition to the above county prizes, each township association has appropriated $25.00 to be awarded as township prizes to members within the township classes. This amount will be distributed as follows in each township:

10 ears yellow corn: $5.00, $3.00, $2.00, $1.50.
10 ears white corn: $4.00, $2.50, $1.00.

Single ear yellow, $2.00, $1.00.

ASSEMBLY IS ORGANIZED

British Plan For 12 Vice-Presidents of League Adopted

(By United Press)

Geneva, Nov. 16.—The league of nations assembly organized for work today in the formation of committees to study an agenda brought before the meeting of the members.

The British plan for twelve vice-presidents was adopted. The Japanese delegation insisted that at least three should be non-European. Viscount Tische was advised by President Hyman that the league would see his demand was granted.

Lord Robert Cecil, representative of South Africa, demanded that the assembly be put on record as favoring open diplomacy. Publication of the Polish-Lithuanian report also was demanded.

COAL PROSPECTS BRIGHTER TODAY

City Plant Receives Another Car and Three Cars For Domestic Use Arrive in Last 24 Hours

QUOTATIONS ARE LOWER TOO

The tension at the city, water, light and power plant was relieved last night by the arrival of another car of coal, which will tide the plant over, it is believed, until more coal reaches Rushville. The city has three cars enroute which should arrive most any time.

A. T. Mahin, superintendent of the plant, said that the prospects for cheaper coal seemed much better this morning than they had for some time. He received quotations, he said, on Virginia and eastern Kentucky coal for $5.75 at the mouth of the mine and was offered Illinois coal for $4.80 at the mines. The city has been paying $8.50 and $9.00 a ton.

The great difficulty, however, seems in getting the coal shipped. The shortage of cars, it is declared, is the great drawback and is responsible for the present shortage.

One Rushville dealer received two sixty-ton cars of Virginia coal this morning and it was being sold today just as fast as it could be unloaded. A Rushville man who occasionally deals in coal got a car Monday and it was all sold by this morning. All dealers report plenty on coal enroute and it is believed that the shortage will not continue much longer.

GEN. WRANGLE AND HIS TROOPS ESCAPE

Evacuation of Sebastopol by Civilian Population Accomplished With Demoralization

40,000 PRISONERS OF REDS

(By United Press)

Constantinople, Nov. 16.—General Wrangle and 30,000 troops have fled from Sebastopol. The evacuation of Sebastopol by the civilian population was accomplished with demoralization. Quays were piled high with personal belongings which had to be discarded because of insufficient transportation. Only one-third of the delayed transportation could be carried away by the ships available.

The Crimean peninsula already in the hands of the Bolsheviks, suffered congestion. Within less than an hour of General Wrangle's evacuation of Sebastopol, the city was filled with confusion. Wounded soldiers returned from the battle front for aid.

Paris, Nov. 16.—The Soviet army is in complete possession of the Crimean peninsula, the French foreign office reported today. The Bolsheviks have counted 40,000 prisoners and the total captured is far greater, the dispatch said.

General Wrangle is expected to arrive in Constantinople today. He left Sebastopol aboard the Russian cruiser Kormolof escorted by French cruisers.

STILL TIME TO SECURE MEDALS

Major Harrell Urges Former Soldiers Not to Delay Making Application For Victory Medals

ASSURES PROMPT ACTION

Medals Are Tokens of Appreciation Given Former Soldiers by The Government

With Armistice Day just behind us with its many fond recollections and incidental celebrations, parades, etc., Major Harrell, Army Recruiting Officer in Indianapolis and for the entire state, wishes to call the attention of all former soldiers, who has as yet not applied for the Victory Medal, to the fact that applications for this valuable token of appreciation, on the part of the government, will still be received at the Indianapolis recruiting station at least for the time being.

It is felt that many former soldiers are under the impression that, with the passing of November 11th, it will be impossible to apply for the medal. At the present time such is not the case, and Lieutenant Joseph F. Stoeckel, Jr., who has recently been designated as Victory Medal Officer for the entire state, wishes to take this occasion to strongly urge all, who have not as yet applied, to do so at once. Applications may be had at all posts of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, as well as the Y. M. C. A., Red Cross, and all army sub-stations of the main recruiting office. The Indianapolis office of the Army Recruiting Service will be only too glad to be of assistance when it is impossible to apply otherwise. In addition to the application, it is only necessary to forward either the original discharge or a true extract from same to the Army Recruiting Station, Indianapolis, Indiana, where, after being acted upon, all papers will be returned to the applicant at once, and the medal will then be forwarded to the applicant within two weeks time from date of receipt of application.

The Indianapolis office is still in a position to give this prompt service. However, the opinion prevails that it is more than likely that all efforts pertaining to the issue of the medal will, in the very near future, be centralized, in which case it is reasonable to assume that long delay will be encountered when making application. Therefore, it is suggested that in order to overcome this, prompt action be taken at once on the part of the former land fighter in making application for the medal.

BOARD AGENT IS WITNESS

W. H. Morton Says Unseasoned Wood Was Used to Build Ships

(By United Press)

New York, Nov. 16.—Wilbur B. Morton, former investigating agent for the United States shipping board, occupied the stand during the morning of today's hearing in the Walsh congressional committee investigation. His testimony was along the following lines: That ships were equipped with a new electric steering apparatus which was a menace to the navy; that vessels were constructed of unseasoned wood which lost their shape through warping; shipping board inspectors were intimidated by agents of repair companies; ships were sold to private concerns which made enough through their operations to cover the purchase price.

ELMER RYON RESIGNS

Elmer Ryon of this city has resigned as advertising solicitor for the Rush County News, it was announced today, and has accepted a similar position with Dewey Hagen of Milroy, publisher of the Milroy Press and Lanrel Review. Mr. Ryon will continue to reside in Rushville.

HOG PRICES LOWEST SINCE DECEMBER, 1916

Kansas City Market Suffers Big Break and Chicago is in Demoralized Condition

TIGHT MONEY IS BLAMED

(By United Press)
Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 16.—The lowest prices since December 1916 were paid for live stock here today. The hog market dropped from 25 to 35 cents with a range of $11.85 to $12.50.

In the cattle delivery, stockers and feeders ranged from $4.50 to $10. Tight money was believed by live stock dealers to have been the cause for the lack of demand for stockers and feeders. Buyers of feeders dropped 40% of normal today. Sixty thousand cattle were in the yards today including 25,000 holdovers from yesterday.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 16.—The live stock market was in a demoralized condition today. The hog market dropped $1 less than yesterday's close. The prices range from $7.50 to $12.50. H. Bickett, head of the United States market bureau, stated that the market was in such a condition that it was difficult to give exact quotations.

ONLY FEW FARMERS ATTEND

Attendance From Rush County at State Meeting Small.

The attendance from Rush county at the second annual convention of the Indiana Federation of Farmers' associations is small, due to the fact that most farmers are busy getting their big corn crop in the crib.

It was stated today that not more than six or eight farmers were present for the opening session in Indianapolis Monday. The state convention was to close this afternoon. Fred Bell, county president, and others are attending the convention.

MAY QUESTION HUNTER AS TO HIS RESIDENCE

Action Necessary Because of Hunters Coming to Indiana and Taking Out Resident License

RESIDENT LICENSE CHEAPER

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 16.—Game wardens of the state department of conservation have been instructed to question all hunters as to their proper residence. This action is necessary in view of the reports to the department that non-residents from Ohio, Michigan, Kentucky and Illinois are coming into Indiana and taking out resident licenses.

A non-resident license costs $15, whereas a resident license costs only $1.00. In the event that non-residents are permitted to hunt on resident licenses, the State is losing a considerable revenue that it rightfully should receive.

According to Richard Lieber, director of conservation in Indiana, any non-resident found hunting with a resident license will be vigorously prosecuted, and the attempt at saving $14.50 will prove costly. Attention is called that the minimum fine upon conviction for such an offense is $25; maximum, $100, to which may be added imprisonment not less than 30 days and not to exceed 60 days.

Ancient Nostrums.

Among the predecessors of modern patent medicines were such astonishing nostrums as Goddard's drops, a formula in vogue during the reign of Charles II, which consisted of a distillate of "human bones or rather scales"; dried mummy, a gruesome preparation that unscrupulous persons frequently imitated; and a medicine that one Joanna Stephens prepared in 1739 for "the cure of the stone" by calcining egg shells and garden snails.

Fire Test for Carpets.

An old way of testing carpets to see if it is a true Persian product is in vogue in Persia. A piece of red-hot charcoal is dropped upon it, which leaves a round singed spot. If the carpet is of the first quality the singed wool can be brushed off with the hand without leaving a trace of the burn discernible.

Crying For Bread

Photo International.
New East Relief Workers Distributing Bread to Newly Arrived Armenian Refugees in Constantinople.

The Constantinople district of the Near East Relief is wonderfully organized. All the bakeries which formerly supplied the Turkish army, under German management, have been taken over by the Near East Relief, and 20,000 loaves of bread are baked and distributed daily. Placed side by side, these loaves would make a line 280 miles long for the five months that the Near East Relief has operated its consolidated bakeries in Constantinople, alone.

The Near East Relief, with offices in every state, is asking for funds to go on with this work.

imprisonment. Many of the jurors were discharged because they were opposed to the death penalty.

The first man to be discharged this morning was Clyde Kitchen of Miroy, who was set aside because of his deafness. Following Mr. Kitchen each side began to throw off the men, and when the noon hour recess came, the selection of a jury was still in doubt.

Dunn wore a suit of work clothes, and had on a blue shirt, without a necktie. His face had a week's growth of beard on it. He was completely surrounded by relatives, who had come from a distance to attend the trial.

In the company surrounding Dunn were his three children by a former marriage. These were Miss Ella Martha Dunn, age 17, Frederick, age 8, and Loretta, age 11. His former wife, Mrs. Mary Dunn, also was among the people and will lend her assistance for her former husband's acquittal. These relatives reside in Indianapolis.

The defendant's brother, Albert Dunn of Hume, Ill., and his sister, Mrs. Hazel Brown of Indianapolis, also were in the group of relatives, besides several others from a distance.

The defense in questioning the jurors would ask them if they could render a verdict for his acquittal, if it were shown that the defendant was a person of unsound mind and mentally irresponsible for his actions at the time that his wife was murdered.

Judge Sparks again enlightened the jurors by stating that by the word acquittal, it did not mean his freedom, but that he would be sent to the Criminal hospital for the insane.

The Farmer Vote

It was very natural for the great bulk of the farmers to cast their ballots for the republican ticket because that party had declared in its platform a protective tariff. The farmer is in a position to judge for himself now whether or not his produce should be protected against the more cheaply produced grain of other countries. He got a liberal taste of free trade just before the election when he saw immense importations of wheat coming in from Canada and pulling down the price of his wheat until it will not bring the cost of production.

According to a government tabulation of statistics, there were importations of nearly 5,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat during the first half of October, and every indication was that the importations would increase rather than diminish. At the same rate, the total for the month would be around 10,000,000 bushels or nearly twice as much as had been imported in any previous month in the past seven years.

It is to be hoped that the farmers of America will give more than a passing thought to the subject, for the conditions that permit the importations are not new. Under the republican tariff law on the statute books prior to 1913 an import duty of 25 per cent ad valorem on wheat flour, The Wilson-Underwood act of 1913 put wheat and wheat flour on the free list except that a duty of 10 cents per bushel on wheat and 45 cents per barrel on flour was charged on importations coming from any country charging a duty on American wheat and flour when exported.

This arrangement contained two vicious evils. One was the adoption of the policy of free trade and the other was the adoption of a plan which made it possible for the rival country to determine whether the United States should impose a duty. So long as Canada wanted to ship wheat and flour into the United States, she could do so without paying a duty. If, by any chance, circumstances should change in such a way as to make it desirable for Canada to charge a duty on American wheat, the nation could do so without asking permission of the United States. In other words, the democratic tariff law left it optional with Canada whether to have a tariff or free trade in wheat and flour. It was a complete surrender to Canada—the adoption of a policy of leaving the American farmer open to free competition while giving the Canadian farmer opportunity to have a protective tariff at any time if his interests required.

It happened that Canada had no occasion to use this free market very extensively until the present harvest season. Soon after the enactment of the Wilson-Underwood tariff law, the war broke out and Canada had a ready market for her wheat in Europe. Some small shipments were made to the United States either for a special purpose or for re-shipment to Europe. But the competition with the American farmer was not felt. The foreign market being almost unlimited, the American farmer did not then need a protective tariff.

But the time came when wheat producers in the United States did need an import duty—and they could not get it. Canada had complete control over the question whether the United States should or should not charge a duty, and of course that country wanted the American market open, in accordance with democratic policies.

Bryan's revolutionary plan to place Mr. Harding in the White House immediately did not receive the notice which the revenge-taking Nebraskan expected.

Some of the explanations tend to convey the unintentional impression that the American people have voted for reactionary policies in rebuke of abandonment of liberalism.

The Anti-Saloon League appears to have been well satisfied with all the results—with the possible exception of the popping of champagne corks among celebrating Americans in Paris.

The Woods

THE PLAYGROUND.

The city street, the city street,
Lies heavy on the town—
An awful avenue of heat,
Whose rays of yellow summer beat
Upon the stones of brown,
Where little children's weary feet
Creep slowly up and down,

The houses rise, the houses rise,
Beside the thoroughfare;
Their windows look with bloodshot eyes
O'er huddled roofs to smoky skies,
And find no promise there;
And childhood's voice of laughter dies
In pestilential air.

The city great, the city great—
It is so big a thing!
From city gate to city gate,
From somber dawn to even late,
It throbs with marketing;
It has no moment it may wait
To hear the children sing.

The little ones, the little ones,
The buds that never bloom,
(While underneath the breathless suns
The stream of life forever runs
Through arteries of gloom),
Look on your stately Parthenons
And find so little room!

There is a street, another street,
Beyond the city's wall,
Beyond the corridors of heat,
Where waters pure and waters sweet
In crystal cadence fall—
And to the children's tiny feet
Their liquid measures call!

Its tenements, its tenements,
Are neither grim nor gray;
And from each verdant eminence
Their crimson-throated residents
Pour music to the day.
Their choristing inhabitants
Sing loud a roundelay.

O fairy shores, O merry shores,
Away from slime and sin!
With leafy roofs and grassy floors,
Where robin nests and swallow soars
When summer days begin—
Oh, let us open wide the doors
And ask the children in!

There is nothing we hate to give up more than a prejudice.

This thing of getting things done by pushing a button is making plain work unpopular.

People who try to be comfortable and succeed have solved all the problem in life there is.

Suppose we say a word in praise of people who try to be decent, but don't get any credit for it.

The average man puts too much in his insides while women are apt to put too much on their outsides, except clothes.

Good Points About Failure.

Do not be downcast at failures. They are often far better for the student than success. He who goes to school to his mistakes will always have a good schoolmaster, and will not be likely to become idle or conceited.

Milk Toast Diet Too Much For Her

"I doctored for years with only temporary relief. My liver was very bad, after eating I would always have such a fullness in my stomach and my heart would palpitate. I could not eat milk toast without distressing me. Since taking a course of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, more than a year ago, I can now eat anything that my appetite desires." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. Ask your druggist—he sells and recommends Pepsinco.

Lay Awake Nights From Rheumatism

Ankles and knees sore and swollen pains in back over kidneys, stomach out of order and lost 50 pounds.

Dreco gave complete relief, he declares.

"A blacksmith's work is no cinch when a man's well and it's mighty hard on anybody with rheumatism. After standing on my feet all day, the pain was so great I could hardly hobble home," said Mr. John Roberts, who is well known at the Kelsey Hame Factory, where he has been employed for the past 15 years and lives at 1216 E. Virginia St., Evansville, Ind.

"I've had rheumatism in my ankles and knees for twelve years and they were so swollen and painful, they kept me awake many a night. Kidneys didn't act as often as they should and my bowels wouldn't move unless I took a strong cathartic. Even milk and soup would bloat me up with gas.

Dreco, the great herbal remedy acts on the stomach and aids it in digesting the food; stops the formation of gas; relieves constipation, strengthens the kidneys, rouses the liver and relieves biliousness, headaches, bitter taste in the mouth, heartburn, coated tongue and purifies the blood, thereby banishing rheumatism.

All druggists now sell Dreco and it is being especially introduced in Rushville by F. B. Johnson & Co.—Adv.

REMEMBER to ask your grocer for Calumet Baking Powder and be sure that you get it—the Indian head on the orange label. Then forget about bake day failures. For you will never have any. Calumet always produces the sweetest and most palatable foods. And now remember, you always use less than of most other brands because it possesses greater leavening strength.

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

There is no waste. If a recipe calls for one egg—two cups of flour—half a cup of milk—that's all you use. You never have to re-bake. Contains only such ingredients as have been officially approved by U. S. Food Authorities, is the product of the largest, most modern and sanitary Baking Powder Factories in existence. Pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

Calumet
Columbia
Muffin
Recipe
—4 cups sifted flour, 4 level teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 eggs, 2 cups of sweet milk. Then mix in the regular way.

SECOND NUMBER OF COURSE THURSDAY

Metropolitan Entertainment Trio
Will Appear at New Salem
School Auditorium

COMPANY IS DISTINGUISHED

The second number of the New Salem high school lecture course will be given Thursday night in the school auditorium, when the Metropolitan entertainment Trio will be the attraction. The winter lyceum course this year is being given by the junior class of the high school, owing to the fact that the school does not have a senior class this year.

The Metropolitan Trio have the distinction of being the first male trio to be placed in lyceum work for many years. The effect of the three fine men's voices in unison is surprising, many of their effects equalling that of male quartets, it is said.

The first purpose in the organization of the Metropolitan Trio was to furnish the public with a really fine singing organization of male voices at a cost no greater than that of inferior quartets.

The winter lyceum course will consist of two other numbers, one in December and the last one in March. The program Thursday night will begin at eight o'clock.

Men of Many Metals.
Some people are rusty; their harsh, ungainly manners eat out whatever is good in their own character. Some people are gilt; a very brilliant exterior they present, but the first brush and hard using rubs off the gilding and reveals the base metal beneath. A third class are polished. The polish indeed is on the multifarious crosses of human life, the more it is rubbed the brighter it glows.

When a Doctor Sneezes

Doctors, out in all kinds of weather, suffer frequently from colds yet seldom seriously.

There's a good reason. Doctors realize the danger and upon appearance of the first symptoms of cold begin taking medicine to check its progress.

Follow the doctors' example and you too will escape the serious consequences of neglect. Take Lightning Laxative Quinine Tablets as soon as you feel a cold coming on. They stop a cold right off; ward off fever, cleanse intestines; never gripe or sicken. Druggists guarantee them;—only 25c a box.

Dorothy Dalton at Princess

All actresses who work simultaneously on stage and screen have certain definite health rules they have adopted from experience. Dorothy Dalton, the Paramount star, who is recognized as one of the most physically perfect actresses today has this to say about keeping fit under such a strain:

"I have always taken the utmost care of myself, and have taken part in as many outdoor sports, such as swimming, riding and fishing, as possible, so, I suppose, I naturally had an unusually strong constitution to begin with. However, when I accepted the heavy role of Chrysis, in "Aphrodite," which I know would entail eight performances a week, I realized it would mean giving up social activities and buckle down to nothing but work and rest.

"Practically the only exercise I could ever get was walking, and I assert that even ten minutes of honest-to-goodness hiking will do more for one than several hours of languid rambling. Some walking enthusiasts claim that if properly done, man needs no other form of exercise. Perhaps they are right, but I am too fond of other athletics to agree."

"The Heart of Twenty," Mystic
The heart of a lonely village girl is bared in "The Heart of Twenty," with ZaSu Pitts in the leading role which will be seen at the Mystic today.

Miss Pitts as Katie Abbott, the homely ward of a prim and puritanical maiden aunt, gives one of the best performances of her career as an eccentric comedienne of the screen. She delineates comedy and pathos with that deft touch and original finish which make her characterizations stand out so clearly.

Katie, in the midst of that period through which all women pass, when the urge of romance and adventure is at its strongest, is living an uninteresting existence in an uninteresting middle-western town. Her hapless lot is made even more unbearable by the severity and lack of understanding displayed by her aunt. An incident occurs which drives her to distraction and she decides to "end it all."

And at this point of the story there is enacted a scene of delicious humor which is followed by others even more entertaining, if not so side-splitting. Only Miss Pitts could truthfully portray the role of Katie, and despite the rather severe demands made on her she is equal to every situation.

May Be Stylish Even With "Hips"

By "MARJORIE"

New York, Nov. 16.—Fifth Avenue's showing of real midwinter dresser is playing some tricks on the straight-line chemise dress. A glimpse at the windows all bedecked with rich gowns for hurly-burly winter weather gives a strong hint that by springtime the dresses will be fuller and a wee bouffant.

It is the uptown houses which exploit "original models and imported creations" that are ringing the knell of the "string bean dress". They are following the example of Paris which has swung away from the straightline dress for so long that it is about ready to swing back to it. America's swerve from a universally-becoming type of dress will be more gradual, however. The couturiers are using all their cleverness to merely fleck the gowns with some phase of new trend.

Thus, one of the leading gown houses of America is showing a collection of rich duvetyns and velvets whose main deviation from the lines of the chemise dress is found in the irregular hem line which curves upward at the front of the gown. The hem continues into a wide contrasting facing. Thus, a model of cochin brown velvet continues its up-and-down hem line into a wide front banding of marigold colored broadened satin. This upward sweeping front line is found in many of the late winter models and gives promise of a directoire or Empire line before long, as a high waistline seems to blend best with this mounting hem.

Other houses are sponsoring a new silhouette by inserting umbrella folds at the sides. Rich metallic brocades or satins are combined in this way with the main fabric of velvet, duvetyn, or a heavy wool velour. This exploitation of the hips is very contrary to the prevailing straight-line mode. Other hints of a coming season's bouffantness are given by horizontal pin tucks at the hips or fan-shaped pleatings of contrasting lighter-weight fabrics.

Panels at the sides are also being used. This fad is especially noted in black-and-white costumes. One house is showing an importation of wide wale white serge or twill banded and paneled in black satin. Small pear buttons outline the bandings and hip panels. Panels by the way, are very chic when used as overtones. Another importing house is showing a street gown of midnight blue serge and black satin. The satin is used as a rather clinging underslip and the serge is the tunic. It is about knee-length and is cut into deep points of uneven length. Some of the points are edged with tiny silk tassels that flop about most piquantly.

Midwinter frocks, however, are not forsaking all the fashion decrees of the earlier fall season. They are more chary of the tinsel and embroidery that frosted the gowns of yestermorn, but they are exploiting the craze for insets of

Eyes Made Equal

If your eyes are not working together—if one of them is unequal to its task—you are under a great disadvantage.

If your eyes are not serving you properly, everything you do will be worse than it should be—though seeming right to you.

Think what this means. How easily a reputation for skill may slip away from you and your earning capacity lessened!

You can only be at your best while both eyes are giving you their best service. If they are not, waste no time in hesitation, but call and let us make a careful examination.

contrasting color and material. That naive little pastime which popular song epitomized some time ago, known as "looking through the knothole in father's wooden leg" had no view at all compared with that of the flip little rosettes, daisies, and other gewgaws that are poked through a slash or eyelet in the bodice or skirt of a gown or the front of a blouse.

One house is showing a new model of seal colored duvetyn. If one had seen the fabric "in the piece" would surely have been called damaged goods, for it is erratic covered with oddly shaped holes and slashes. As made, however, the openings come at the top of the skirt, over the shoulders, and at the middle-front of the bodice. The apertures are filled in with almond colored chamois skin.

Other dresses are full of large eyelets embroidered in colored silk and filled in with tiny dabs of fur, ribbon or even tufts of fur. One house is showing a gown of black velvet promiscuously slashed. The slashes are underlaid by ermine paillettes.

The First Athletes. The Greeks were among the first to insist on gymnastics as part of their early training of the child. They acted on the principle of "a sound mind in a sound body," and thus the moral training of the young was included in the physical work carried on in the gymnasium.

World's Greatest Dinner Party, Says Farm Paper

Article in Current Number of Farm Life by the Editor Deals With Community Event Here When Farmers and Their Wives Entertained Merchants

"The world's greatest dinner party". "That's the way George Weymouth, editor of Farm Life, a monthly agriculture journal, described the community affair at the city park in September when the farmers of the county and their wives entertained the merchants, their families and employees. He was a guest at the dinner party and writes his observations as follows:

The ladies of the Rush County (Indiana) Farmers' Association gave a party the other day. I was one of the ten thousand chicken eating guests, and the other 9,999 agreed with me—and I agreed with them—that it was probably the world's greatest dinner party.

One thing is sure. If the organized farmers can pull off their business program with half the skill they show in their social programs, they will revolutionize the business of farming.

It is manifestly some big job to feed ten thousand people.

Chicken, ham, meat loaf, home-made bread of all varieties, potatoes, and sweet potatoes, beans, corn, every kind of salad, pies of all sorts, cakes, pickles, jams, jellies, hot coffee—everything fresh from the farm—big portions and second and third helpings for everybody that could manage to go back for more.

And the band played—the men bantered one another—the ladies smiled and beamed with friendly hospitality, and urged you to have "just a bite more" of chicken and another piece of pie. It was, indeed, the very top notch and climax, the apotheosis, of dinner parties.

The Rush county chicken dinner was really the payment of a social debt. Last March the business men of the county seat gave a get-together dinner to the Farmers' Association, which had just started its organization campaign.

In September, when it was decided to return the favor, Mrs. Bert Davidson was appointed county chairman and hostess in general. A township chairman, with a committee totaling fifteen ladies in each of the twelve townships, completed the executive staff. The county was divided up, and the ladies of the Farmers' Association—numbering about fourteen hundred provided the food and served the dinner.

All the business men in the county, with their clerks and helpers were invited—and for that occasion Rush county simply shut up shop. Stores, banks, shops and offices were closed all over the county, and everybody piled in the car and went to Rushville park for dinner.

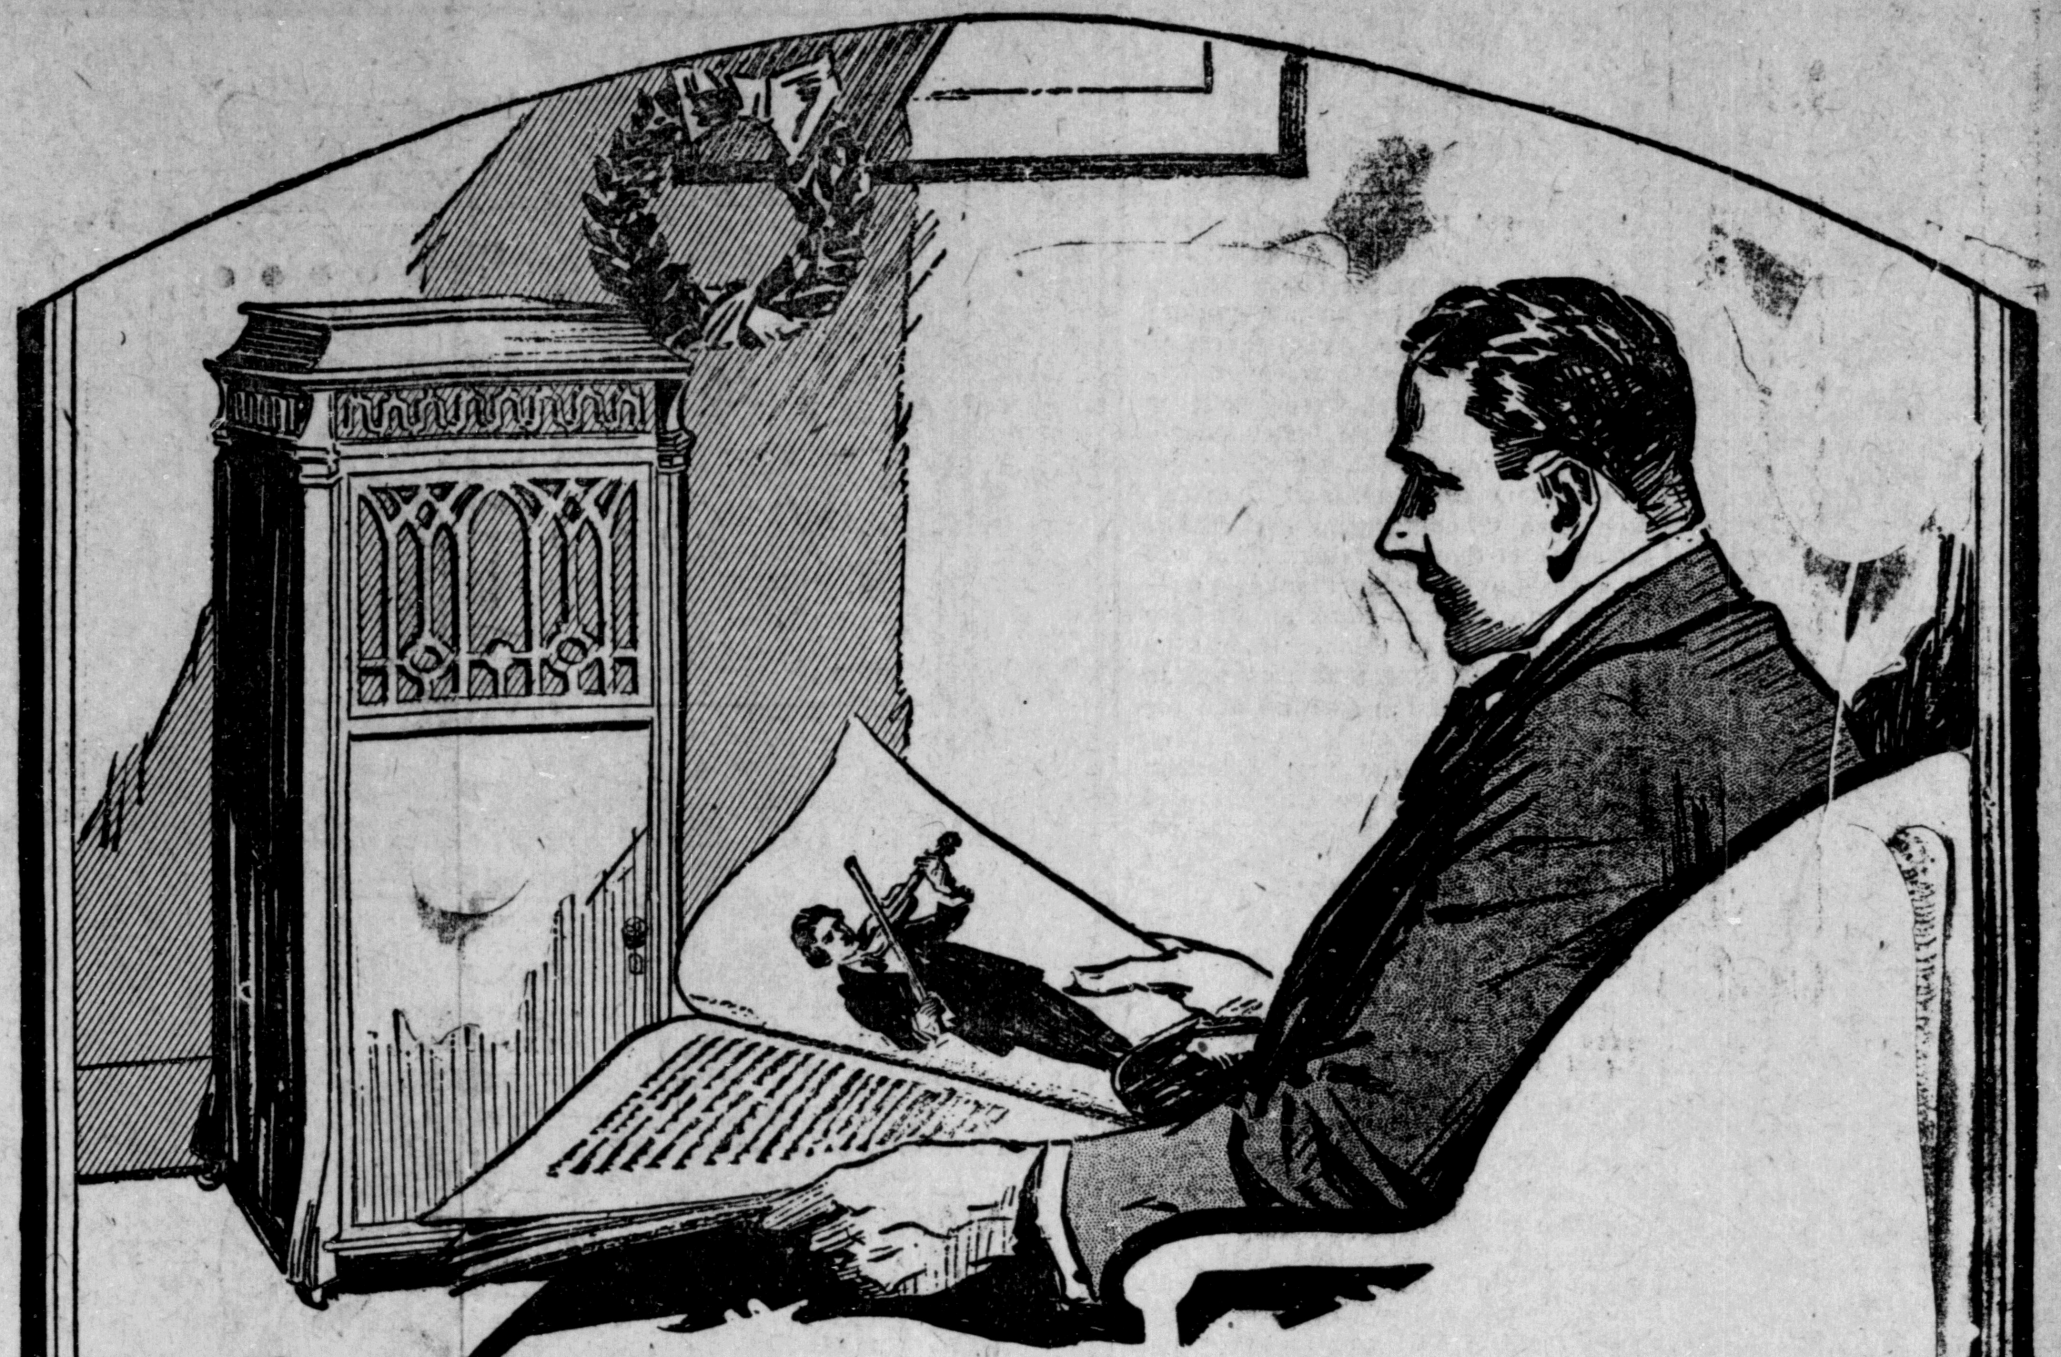

Howard Ewbank, secretary of the Farmers' Association, whose staff of men were at the entrance checking up on the crowd, told me that before twelve o'clock about two thousand five hundred automobiles had arrived as nearly as we could estimate.

Everybody was tagged that day. The tag was not only an admission ticket, but an identification card. Blue tags were worn by the farmers, when you met anybody, you could tell at once his name and address and business. And since you had to have a tag to get in and since nobody wanted to miss the party a number of retired farmers and others who are eligible to membership in the association were hanging around the office of county Agent Ball very early in the morning, wanting to pay in their memberships fees and obtain admission tags to the party.

An address was made by John M. Dyer of Vincennes, and there were representatives from Purdue and from the state Farmers' federation. The motion picture man was there also and when you see the next Pathé Weekly Review perhaps the Rushville Farmers big dinner will flash before your eyes—A sign of the new times when the organized farmers are able to stage a big show.

Grove's IRON TONIC SYRUP

is an Iron Tonic in the form of a Palatable Syrup and is better suited to Children than Iron Pills or Iron Tablets.

The Iron in GROVE'S IRON TONIC SYRUP is digested as soon as it is swallowed and, therefore, is promptly assimilated.

Does not Discolor the Teeth. The Syrup is flavored and children love to take it.

When you see how it improves the appetite, brings color to the cheeks and increases vitality and energy, you will then realize its true tonic value. You can soon feel its Strengthening, Invigorating Effect. Price 75c.

SHOOTS DRIVER IN THE BACK

John Miller, Owner of Jitney Line, Sought Vengeance, He Said

(By United Press)
Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 16—In the midst of a traffic jam, P. Morgan, a jitney driver, was shot to death on Kansas City busiest street corner Monday. John Miller, jitney passenger, was arrested and admitted the shooting. Morgan was shot five times in the back. Miller told the police he shot Morgan because he had lured his wife from her home. The police saved Miller from an angry mob who were determined to do violence to him. Morgan was an owner of several jitney and motor cars and Miller was employed as a driver.

For Over Seven Years

Back in the early part of 1913 this business was organized and started in a small frame building. Then came a move into larger quarters on account of increased patronage.

TODAY

We occupy our own plant. It is the third place we have occupied since our organization. Our patronage speaks for itself. Year after year we have expanded and added new equipment, which makes our plant today one of the finest in the state.

WE INVITE INSPECTION

Come, see for yourself, the different departments in operation. Work is taken care of in Rushville, and is not trusted to some cleaner in an out of town plant. Because of the trust people have placed in us, is only one reason why our plant has so successfully existed under the same management for over seven years.

This plant is the only plant in Rush County that is entitled to the name of "Master Cleaners."

THE ABERCROMBIE FARM

Order to divide up the Theodore Abercrombie estate among the heirs, the farm, known as the

lying Rushville at the city limits on the north and consisting of 265 more or less, is now offered for sale at private sale.

This is one of the best farms in Rush County, most of it having been a family for fifty years and has been well taken care of and not it is capable of division into two complete and separate farms—each containing houses, barns and other first class improvements. That part as the "East Place" lies on the east side of Main street, and contains about one hundred and twelve acres, and that portion known as the "West Place" lies on the west side of Main Street, and consists of one hundred and fifty-three acres. Both farms extend down to 11th street.

For farming purposes there are no better farms in Rush County these, but they are further valuable because they lie right at the limits of the city on the north and adjacent to Rushville's finest residence section. Both farms are capable of sub-division into valuable city lots. Part of the farm has already been laid off into city lots, taken into the city and residences built upon it.

As the L. E. & W. R. R. bounds the farm on the west, and the Pennsylvania R. R. intersects a portion of the farm on the east, several fine city sites are available.

This land will be offered for sale as a whole or as two separate farms. Division will be given on or before March first, 1921.

Some Reasons Why the Farmer Should Keep Thanksgiving

Just now, apart from our knowledge of food secure, perhaps some of us feel it necessary to fall back upon the private reasons for thankfulness. Each one has some bit of personal well-being that can be brought out and rubbed up and admired just to keep our home circle happy this Thanksgiving day. Each one knows their own cause for content, even where it is so commonplace as not to be distinctly visible to others. Especially this year we mustn't lose sight of the personal bright spots on account of their every-day character.

A person was once visiting a friend whose home commanded a beautiful stretch of mountain scenery. It was, in fact, a magnificent view. "What a wonderful outlook you have here," he remarked to his host. "I am sure if I lived here I should spend most of my time viewing the landscape." "Why, I never thought of it that way," his host replied. "I never considered it anything remarkable. I have simply taken it as a matter of course."

Thousands of people who live in the country enjoy a treasure which is denied to millions of their fellowmen—the blessing of good, pure, out-of-door air, fragrant in spring and summer with perfume of flowers or new-mown hay, and in fall and winter laden with crisp, life-giving ozone.

No one enjoys more blessings and treasures of this kind than the man or woman on the farm. He or she, if inclined to be of a complaining nature, is apt to find fault that life on the farm is so hard and composed so largely of drudgery. Furthermore, "far away fields are always green," and the one on the farm imagines that in the city all must be ease and contentment. These imaginings, however, will not stand the test of personal acquaintance with the life that is lived in the cities by hundreds of thousands of people. Farm work is hard, but there are no easy berths in life.

The average person on the farm lives better, enjoys better air to breathe, better water to drink, better food to eat, better conditions under which to work, better health than the man or woman in corresponding circumstances in the city.

NOTICE FOR IMPROVEMENT OF A HIGHWAY IN RIPLEY TOWNSHIP, RUSH COUNTY, IND.

Notice is hereby given that a petition has been filed in my office for the grading and paving with gravel of a certain highway in Ripley Township, Rush County, State of Indiana, which petition is signed by Fannie B. Wilson et al., and is in words and figures as follows, to-wit:

TO THE HONORABLE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS OF RUSH COUNTY, STATE OF INDIANA.

We, the undersigned petitioners, would represent and show to your Honorable Board that the petition is signed by more than fifty adult freeholders and voters of Ripley Township, Rush County, Indiana, and that there is now established a public highway upon and over the following described road, to-wit: Commencing at the southeast corner of the southeast quarter (1/4) of section nine (9), township fifteen (15) north, range nine (9) east, where the turnpike running north and south along the line of the township line between Ripley and Center Townships intersects said corner; thence west on the line dividing sections nine (9) and sixteen (16), township fifteen (15) north, range nine (9) east, a distance of one hundred and twenty (120) feet; thence north on the line dividing the lands of Fannie B. Wilson and Charles S. Wallace a distance of one hundred and sixty (160) feet to the north line of the southeast quarter (1/4) of section nine (9), township fifteen (15) north, range nine (9) east, following the curve of the road as now located and a westerly direction a distance of eight hundred (800) feet to the west line of the northeast quarter (1/4) of said section nine (9); thence north on the line dividing the northeast and northwest quarter (1/4) of section nine (9) and the southeast and southwest quarter (1/4) of section nine (9), a distance of two thousand sixty-seven (2067) feet to where said line would intersect what is known as the Carthage and Knightstown free turnpike.

That there is no incorporated city or town in said Ripley township of more than thirty thousand inhabitants and the only incorporated city or town in said Ripley Township is the town of Carthage, which does not have to exceed fifteen hundred inhabitants.

Your petitioners would further represent and show that said public highway described herein as aforesaid should be improved by grading, draining and paving the same with gravel to a width of thirty-two feet the traveled portion thereof to be graveled sixteen feet in width the entire length of said highway except for such distance as may be proper to prevent washing away on each side where a creek known as "Three Mile" crosses said public highway and the same should be paved with concrete together with curb and necessary retaining walls, and that it will be of public utility to improve said public highway as aforesaid by grading, draining and paving the same with gravel to the width of sixteen feet in the center and traveled portion thereof and on each side of said traveled portion to the outside on each side thereof a width of two feet and thereupon of all necessary drains, side drains, bridges, culverts and sewers and when so constructed and improved it will be of great utility to the community and will be less than the benefits derived therefrom; that a Rural Free Mail Delivery Route traverses said public highway and the same is all in Ripley Township, Rush County, Indiana; that said highway is less than three miles in length and connects at the north end thereof with the Knightstown and Carthage Free Gravel Road and at the east end thereof with the township boundary line between Center and Ripley townships.

Wherefore, your petitioners pray of your Honorable Board that the aforesaid public highway be improved by grading, draining and paving the same with gravel to a width of thirty-two feet the traveled portion thereof in the center be graveled to the width of sixteen feet its entire length, except for such distance as may be proper to prevent washing away on each side where a creek known as "Three Mile" crosses said public highway the same should be paved with concrete together with curb and necessary retaining walls and the remainder thereof on either side to the outside thereof be graded, and drained as may be necessary and not less than thirty-two feet in width its entire length and that all necessary drains, side drains, bridges, culverts and sewers be constructed therein and thereupon so as to make said public highway a modern, complete and improved graveled highway as by law provided; that said improvement be constructed and said highway be so improved as hereinbefore described and prayed for in accordance with sections 62 to 83 inclusive of the Acts of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana in the year 1905 being an act concerning public highways and all acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto.

William A. Hall, J. Hooker Wilson, Fannie B. Wilson, Arthur W. Foxworth, Charles S. Wallace, William S. Paulley, Jesse E. Kiser, J. E. Norris, Harry R. Leasure, Walter Mesul, Byron Ball, Rowland H. Miner, Clarkson Gause, Cornelia N. Koons, J. O. Sears, Jas. McGeorge, Minnie Ruby.

Said petition will be presented to the Board of Commissioners of Rush County, Indiana, on the 6th day of December, 1920, the same being a day in regular session of the December term of such Board of Commissioners.

Witness my hand and seal of the Board of Commissioners this 8th day of November, 1920.

WM. H. McMILLIN, Auditor Rush County, Indiana.

BRYAN IS FIRM FOR WILSON RESIGNATION

Declares That he Should Let Harding Take Charge of Affairs at Once in Washington

OUTLINES IDEA ON SUBJECT

New York, Nov. 15.—No enemy could wish President Wilson anything worse than he should resign from his office and allow President-elect Harding take the chair, thus postponing world peace through American cooperation, William Jennings Bryan declared in an interview today.

He outlined his reasons why he believed and thought the rest of this nation believed, President Wilson should resign and let Harding take charge of the affairs at once, as follows:

"Everyone knows that the one matter on the president's heart is world peace. He believes that our nation could gladly aid in promotion of peace by cooperation with other nations. The president hopes for this cooperation in the terms of the covenant as presented to the senate.

"The people object to this plan as they have shown in the endorsement of Harding's plan of an association of nations. It is not likely that Wilson will try to fight for his plan against Harding's ideas and the Republican senate will not permit him if he tries. Therefore the only promotion that can be made toward cooperation with other nations is along Harding's plan and let Mr. Harding carry it out."

Howdy from New Orleans, PETE!

Say, old clock, you've got the time—maybe you'd like to hear this one! As we were rolling into New Orleans yesterday one of the men in the club car was recounting his cigarette experiences; how he finally pulled a trick on his luck and got set right!

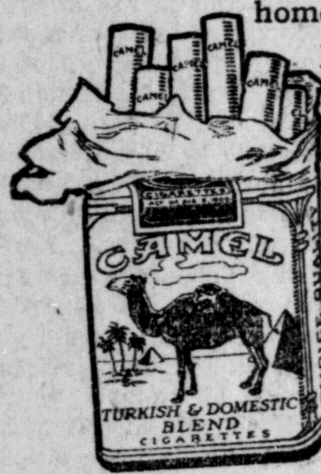

"Well, I've had my cigarette lesson", continued the traveller, "I went up and down the line on cigarettes until I got hold of Camels and got deep into their quality and mildness and delightful flavor! There never was a blend such as Camels combination of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos! I'll say it—Camels taught me what a cigarette should be and they'll teach any man who smokes!" Thinks I to myself — "Sic 'em, judge, every word you spill is a sentence!"

Now, Pete, that's the kind of Camel thanksgiving stuff you get North, East, South, West and through the middle! That's all as true as that little sheep will wag their tails!

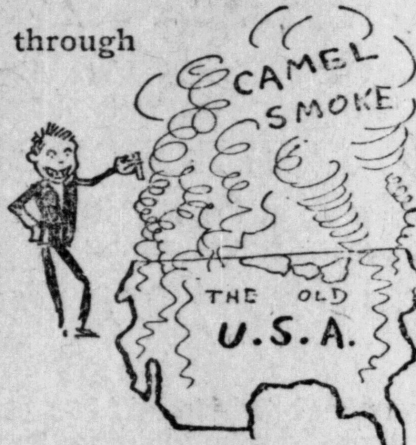

I did some tall thinking as I browsed through the quaint old French quarter this evening—how universal the appeal of Camel cigarettes really is! Figure the travelling I've done and the people I've met — each city different from the other — AND Camels have been the ONE cigarette to be found everywhere—and the cigarette most smoked at each point! Pete, old backstop, it's wonderful the way smokers are sliding home to Camels!

Dallas, Texas, for me!

Yours

OFFICIALS PROBE A DOUBLE MURDER

Witnesses Tell of Fight Between Two Women and Men Where Chicago Tragedy Occurred.

DEAD GIRLS ACTRESSES

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 16.—Authorities investigating the deaths of two actresses on Saturday night were informed today that two women answering their description, were in a fight in an automobile with two men in a park where the tragedy occurred. The witnesses stated that the fight occurred where the physicians judged that the women died.

This was the first information of the fight which the police believed might lead to a solution of the mystery which surrounds the deaths of the two actresses, Mary Rhodes, of Altoona, Pa., and Lillian Thompson, of Boston, which was given in on a telephone call to the undertaking rooms where the bodies are now being held.

Police questioned the witnesses who saw the fight. They stated that one woman was forced into the automobile by two men. One of the men was fighting with the woman. The other woman came to the aid of her companion but was pushed away. The witness who saw the fight stated that he went to the assistance of the two women but was told to beat it, and in fear for his wife went away.

Five men were being held today in connection with the mystery.

Gives Permission to Use Name

Eugene Palmer, Lawrence, Mass., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar relieved me of a cough from which I had been suffering for weeks. You have my full permission to use my name any time you wish in any advertising matter." This fine old family remedy is in great demand right now for colds, croup and bronchial and grip coughs. Foley's Honey and Tar acts almost instantly, cuts the phlegm, soothes the raw and irritated membrane, clears breathing passages. F. B. Johnson.—(Adv.) 6

DUNN IS PUT ON TRIAL FOR WIFE MURDER

Jury Selected at Two O'clock and Opening Statements Are Made By Both Sides

40 EXAMINED FOR THE JURY

Prosecutor Says Deed Was Premeditated and Done With Malice, In Demanding Death Penalty

INSANITY DEFENSE PLEA

T. M. Green Says Evidence Will Show He Was Epileptic 15 Years Ago and Suffered Spells

Fred Dunn went on trial this morning in the circuit court on a charge of first degree murder, and the evidence was begun at two o'clock this afternoon, after the jury had been selected.

The jurors were selected after 40 men had been examined. Prosecutor A. C. Stevens in his opening statement to the jury, reviewed the facts in the case from the time that Dunn had married Cordelia Rucker, whom he killed, up until the night of September 18, when the fatal shooting occurred.

He attempted to impress upon the jury that the deed as committed was premeditated and was done with malice.

T. M. Green, attorney for Dunn, in his opening statement, asserted that the evidence would not be contradicted to a great extent. He stated further that there had been a crime committed in Arlington on that night, in which a human being was killed, and that two more lives were almost taken.

"The defense will show you," Mr. Green continued, "that Fred Dunn is and was a person of unsound mind. We will present testimony to show you that fifteen years ago he was an epileptic, suffering with spells in which he was mentally deranged, and not responsible for his actions."

"We will present further testimony to show you that 13 years ago, Dunn was officially pronounced a person of unsound mind. These facts continued for many years off and on, and his mind would be in an subconscious mood, when upon his coming to, he wouldn't remember what had happened."

"Our testimony will show that on the night that he committed the crime in Arlington, that when on the operating table, physicians and surgeons will tell you, that he presented the appearance of being in an epileptic stage."

Following his remarks, Mrs. Bertha Leisure took the witness stand as the first witness for the state. The trial will continue for probably three days, as many witnesses will be examined by the state and defense.

The jury hearing the case is composed of the following: D. C. Aldridge, John F. Boyd, Will Roth, Mont Seltion, S. R. Newhouse, Seth Moor, Charles V. Carr, Mert Wolcott, E. A. Billings, Dan F. Kiplinger, Homer W. Cole and W. A. Caldwell.

Dunn was produced in court this morning at nine o'clock by Sheriff Jones. He did not seem to be any more concerned than if the charge against him was of minor importance.

After the jury box had been filled, Prosecutor Stevens began questioning the jurors. Every man was asked the question concerning the death penalty. He was addressed with: "In a case where the person is charged with first degree murder, and you have been convinced that such is the case beyond a reasonable doubt, would your conscience permit you to inflict the death penalty on the guilty party?"

At first the jurors did not seem to grasp the real meaning of the question, and in order to enlighten them Judge Sparks explained that in a murder case of the first degree, the punishment was either death, or life.

FRANK M'ILWAINE WINS

Rushville Man Elected Grand Junior Warden of Odd Fellows

(By United Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 16.—Frank M'Ilwaine of Rushville today was elected grand junior warden of Odd Fellows at the grand encampment here today. R. H. Hildebrand of South Bend became grand patriarch to succeed Orla A. Armfield of Elwood.

A telephone message received here this afternoon was to the effect that Mr. M'Ilwaine was successful on the second ballot. The remainder of the officers are filled by succession, a new grand junior warden being elected each year. This means the Rushville man will eventually become the grand patriarch.

CANDIDATES ARE NOT FILING STATEMENTS

ALLOWED 30 DAYS TO COMPLY

Candidates for office in Rush county are neglecting to file statements of their campaign expenses in the recent election, as provided by law, and are warned that they are subject to a fine if they do not comply with the statute. Successful candidates will not receive their commissions from the secretary of state until they file such a statement.

Up to date only seven candidates have lived up to the law. Even though they were defeated, candidates come under the terms of this law. They have only thirty days in which to comply with it. If a candidate did not spend a cent in the campaign, he is expected to make a sworn statement to that effect with the clerk of the court.

Some of the candidates have not as yet filed their statements of campaign expenses incurred in the primary election held last spring. This is especially true with unsuccessful candidates and it is very essential that they comply with the law as soon as possible.

Not only must the successful and unsuccessful candidates at the recent election file their expense statements, but the candidates of the primaries must also do so. In some cases it is reported that candidates had no actual expense other than a few postage stamps. However, others are said to have conducted expensive campaigns.

GREEK GOVERNMENT QUILTS AFTER DEFEAT

Dispatch From Athens Says Venizelos Cabinet Resigned Following Loss of Election

FORMER PREMIER DECLINES

(By United Press)
Paris, Nov. 16.—The Greek government has resigned, according to a dispatch received here from Athens. Premier Venizelos and his cabinet resigned as the result of the national election in which they were defeated. The regent summoned the former premier, George Rhallis to form a new cabinet, but he refused to undertake the task.

Athens, Greece, Nov. 16.—King Constantine, dethroned by the allies, may return to power as the result of the national election in which Premier Venizelos appeared to be defeated. The returns were incomplete today but the cabinet's first claim of victory appeared to be premature.

Two policemen were killed in the fighting between the two factions. Many arrests were made. The Venizelos government, will make no further combat but will turn over the national machinery to the opposing factions.

CORN SHOW PRIZES ANNOUNCED TODAY

Will Aggregate $718, Which Includes $75 Set Aside For Butter, Bread and Cakes Exhibit

INSTITUTE FEATURE ADDED

Program Will be Arranged For Afternoon of Closing Day to Include Talks and Music

Prizes aggregating $718 will be awarded at the county corn show and women's exhibit, to be held in Rushville, December 29 and 30, according to the prize list which was made public today by the committees of the Rush County Farmers' association.

Because of the scope of the show and the fact that the women's exhibit was added, two days were set aside for the big event and some institute features were added.

The committees of the association are arranging for a program which will include some good talks and plenty of music which will be of interest to men and women alike. The program will be held on the afternoon of the closing day and at that time the prize winners will be announced and the results of the county five-acre corn contest will also be made public.

When plans were first made, it was intended to restrict the event to a corn show alone, but recently a decision was reached to offer prizes, or the best butter, bread and cake exhibited by the women of Rush county, and $75 were set aside for this feature.

The total prizes in the county corn show proper will amount to $343, the biggest individual prize, which will be a silver loving cup valued at $50 to be offered as sweepstakes for the best ten ears of any color exhibited.

A loving cup worth $25 will be the prize in the single ear sweepstakes and first prizes of $25 each will be offered in the classes for the best ten ears of yellow and the best ten ears of white corn.

The exhibit will be under the management of the following committees:

Corn show—Will L. Brown, John W. Mauzy and D. D. Alexander; ladies department—Mrs. Bert Davidson, Mrs. Fred Bell, Mrs. Cliff Winship and Mrs. Ora D. Henley.

The committees announce the following premium list for the men and women's exhibits:

Class A
10 ears yellow corn
First $25.00—Second $20.00—Third $15.00—Fourth $10.00—Fifth $5.00.

Class B

First $5.00—Second $2.00—Third $1.00.

Sweepstakes
10 ears any color
$50.00 loving cup to be competed for annually.

Sweepstakes
Single ear, any color
$25.00 loving cup to be competed for annually.

In addition to the above county prizes, each township association has appropriated $25.00 to be awarded as township prizes to members within the township classes. This amount will be distributed as follows in each township:

10 ears yellow corn: $5.00, $3.00, $2.00, $1.50.
10 ears white corn: $4.00, $2.50, $1.00.
Single ear yellow, $2.00, $1.00.

ASSEMBLY IS ORGANIZED

British Plan For 12 Vice-Presidents of League Adopted

(By United Press)
Geneva, Nov. 16.—The league of nations assembly organized for work today in the formation of committees to study an agenda brought before the meeting of the members.

The British plan for twelve vice-presidents was adopted. The Japanese delegation insisted that at least three should be non-European. Viscount Tsech was advised by President Hyman that the league would see his demand was granted.

Lord Robert Cecil, representative of South Africa, demanded that the assembly be put on record as favoring open diplomacy. Publication of the Polish-Lithuanian report also was demanded.

COAL PROSPECTS BRIGHTER TODAY

QUOTATIONS ARE LOWER TOO

The tension at the city, water, light and power plant was relieved last night by the arrival of another car of coal, which will tide the plant over, it is believed, until more coal reaches Rushville. The city has three cars enroute which should arrive most any time.

A. T. Mahin, superintendent of the plant, said that the prospects for cheaper coal seemed much better this morning than they had for some time. He received quotations, he said, on Virginia and eastern Kentucky coal for $5.75 at the mouth of the mine and was offered Illinois coal for $4.30 at the mines. The city has been paying $8.50 and $9.00 a ton.

The great difficulty, however, seems in getting the coal shipped. The shortage of cars, it is declared, is the great drawback and is responsible for the present shortage.

One Rushville dealer received two sixty-ton cars of Virginia coal this morning and it was being sold today just as fast as it could be unloaded. A Rushville man who occasionally deals in coal got a car Monday and it was all sold by this morning. All dealers report plenty on coal enroute and it is believed that the shortage will not continue much longer.

GEN. WRANGLE AND HIS TROOPS ESCAPE

Evacuation of Sebastopol by Civilian Population Accomplished With Demoralization

40,000 PRISONERS OF REDS

(By United Press)
Constantinople, Nov. 16.—General Wrangle and 30,000 troops have fled from Sebastopol. The evacuation of Sebastopol by the civilian population was accomplished with demoralization. Quays were piled high with personal belongings which had to be discarded because of insufficient transportation. Only one-third of the delayed transportation could be carried away by the ships available.

The Crimean peninsula already in the hands of the Bolsheviks, suffered congestion. Within less than an hour of General Wrangle's evacuation of Sebastopol, the city was filled with confusion. Wounded soldiers returned from the battle front for aid.

Paris, Nov. 16.—The Soviet army is in complete possession of the Crimean peninsula, the French foreign office reported today. The Bolsheviks have counted 40,000 prisoners and the total captured is far greater, the dispatch said.

General Wrangle is expected to arrive in Constantinople today. He left Sebastopol aboard the Russian cruiser Kormolof escorted by French cruisers.

STILL TIME TO SECURE MEDALS

Major Harrell Urges Former Soldiers Not to Delay Making Application For Victory Medals

ASSURES PROMPT ACTION

Medals Are Tokens of Appreciation Given Former Soldiers by The Government

With Armistice Day just behind us with its many fond recollections and incidental celebrations, parades, etc., Major Harrell, Army Recruiting Officer in Indianapolis and for the entire state, wishes to call the attention of all former soldiers, who has as yet not applied for the Victory Medal, to the fact that applications for this valuable token of appreciation, on the part of the government, will still be received at the Indianapolis recruiting station at least for the time being.

It is felt that many former soldiers are under the impression that, with the passing of November 11th, it will be impossible to apply for the medal. At the present time such is not the case, and Lieutenant Joseph F. Stoeckel, Jr., who has recently been designated as Victory Medal Officer for the entire state, wishes to take this occasion to strongly urge all, who have not as yet applied, to do so at once.

Applications may be had at all posts of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, as well as the Y. M. C. A. Red Cross, and all army sub-stations of the main recruiting office. The Indianapolis office of the Army Recruiting Service will be only too glad to be of assistance when it is impossible to apply otherwise. In addition to the application, it is only necessary to forward either the original discharge or a true extract from same to the Army Recruiting Station, Indianapolis, Indiana, where, after being acted upon, all papers will be returned to the applicant at once, and the medal will then be forwarded to the applicant within two weeks time from date of receipt of application.

The Indianapolis office is still in a position to give this prompt service. However, the opinion prevails that it is more than likely that all efforts pertaining to the issue of the medal will, in the very near future, be centralized, in which case it is reasonable to assume that long delay will be encountered when making application. Therefore, it is suggested that in order to overcome this, prompt action be taken at once on the part of the former land fighter in making application for the medal.

BOARD AGENT IS WITNESS

W. H. Morton Says Unseasoned Wood Was Used to Build Ships

(By United Press)
New York, Nov. 16.—Wilbur B. Morton, former investigating agent for the United States shipping board, occupied the stand during the morning of today's hearing in the Walsh congressional committee investigation. His testimony was along the following lines: That ships were equipped with a new electric steering apparatus which was a menace to the navy; that vessels were constructed of unseasoned wood which lost their shape through warping; shipping board inspectors were intimidated by agents of repair companies; ships were sold to private concerns which made enough through their operations to cover the purchase price.

ELMER RYON RESIGNS

Elmer Ryon of this city has resigned as advertising solicitor for the Rush County News, it was announced today, and has accepted a similar position with Dewey Hagen of Milroy, publisher of the Milroy Press and Laurel Review. Mr. Ryon will continue to reside in Rushville.

HOG PRICES LOWEST SINCE DECEMBER, 1916

Kansas City Market Suffers Big Break and Chicago is in Demoralized Condition

TIGHT MONEY IS BLAMED

(By United Press)

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 16.—The lowest prices since December 1916 were paid for live stock here today. The hog market dropped from 25 to 35 cents with a range of $11.85 to $12.50.

In the cattle delivery, stockers and feeders ranged from $4.50 to $10. Tight money was believed by live stock dealers to have been the cause for the lack of demand for stockers and feeders. Buyers of feeders dropped 40% of normal today. Sixty thousand cattle were in the yards today including 25,000 holdovers from yesterday.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 16.—The live stock market was in a demoralized condition today. The hog market dropped $1 less than yesterday's close. The prices range from $7.50 to $12.50. H. Bickett, head of the United States market bureau, stated that the market was in such a condition that it was difficult to give exact quotations.

ONLY FEW FARMERS ATTEND

Attendance From Rush County at State Meeting Small.

The attendance from Rush county at the second annual convention of the Indiana Federation of Farmers' associations is small, due to the fact that most farmers are busy getting their big corn crop in the cribs.

It was stated today that not more than six or eight farmers were present for the opening session in Indianapolis Monday. The state convention was to close this afternoon. Fred Bell, county president, and others are attending the convention.

MAY QUESTION HUNTER AS TO HIS RESIDENCE

Action Necessary Because of Hunters Coming to Indiana and Taking Out Resident License

RESIDENT LICENSE CHEAPER

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 16.—Game wardens of the state department of conservation have been instructed to question all hunters as to their proper residence. This action is necessary in view of the reports to the department that non-residents from Ohio, Michigan, Kentucky and Illinois are coming into Indiana and taking out resident licenses.

A non-resident license costs $15, whereas a resident license costs only $1.00. In the event that non-residents are permitted to hunt on resident licenses, the State is losing a considerable revenue that it rightfully should receive.

According to Richard Lieber, director of conservation in Indiana, any non-resident found hunting with a resident license will be vigorously prosecuted, and the attempt at saving $14.50 will prove costly. Attention is called that the minimum fine upon conviction for such an offense is $25; maximum, $100, to which may be added imprisonment not less than 30 days and not to exceed 60 days.

Ancient Nostrum.

Among the predecessors of modern patent medicines were such astonishing nostrums as Goddard's drops, a formula in vogue during the reign of Charles II, which consisted of a distillate of "human bones or, rather scales"; dried mummy, a gruesome preparation that unscrupulous persons frequently imitated; and a medicine that one Joanna Stephens prepared in 1739 for "the cure of the stone" by calcining egg shells and garden snails. —Youth's Companion.

Fire Test for Carpets.

An old way of testing carpets to see if it is a true Persian product is in vogue in Persia. A piece of red-hot charcoal is dropped upon it, which leaves a round singed spot. If the carpet is of the first quality the singed wool can be brushed off with the hand without leaving a trace of the burn discernible.

Crying For Bread

Photo International.

New East Relief Workers Distributing Bread to Newly Arrived Armenian Refugees in Constantinople.

The Constantinople district of the Near East Relief is wonderfully organized. All the bakeries which formerly supplied the Turkish army, under German management, have been taken over by the Near East Relief, and 20,000 loaves of bread are baked and distributed daily. Placed side by side, these loaves would make a line 280 miles long for the five months that the Near East Relief has operated its consolidated bakeries in Constantinople, alone.

The Near East Relief, with offices in every state, is asking for funds to go on with this work.

DUNN IS PUT ON TRIAL FOR WIFE MURDER

imprisonment. Many of the jurors were discharged because they were opposed to the death penalty.

The first man to be discharged this morning was Clyde Kitchin of Milroy, who was set aside because of his deafness. Following Mr. Kitchin each side began to throw off the men, and when the noon hour recess came, the selection of a jury was still in doubt.

Dunn wore a suit of work clothes, and had on a blue shirt, without a necktie. His face had a week's growth of beard on it. He was completely surrounded by relatives, who had come from a distance to attend the trial.

In the company surrounding Dunn were his three children by a former marriage. These were Miss Ella Martha Dunn, age 17, Frederick, age 8, and Loretta, age 11. His former wife, Mrs. Mary Dunn, also was among the people and will lend her assistance for her former husband's acquittal. These relatives reside in Indianapolis.

The defendant's brother, Albert Dunn of Hume, Ill., and his sister, Mrs. Hazel Brown of Indianapolis, also were in the group of relatives, besides several others from a distance.

The defense in questioning the jurors would ask them if they could render a verdict for his acquittal, if it were shown that the defendant was a person of unsound mind and mentally irresponsible for his actions at the time that his wife was murdered.

Judge Sparks again enlightened the jurors by stating that by the word acquittal, it did not mean his freedom, but that he would be sent to the Criminal hospital for the insane.

The Farmer Vote

It was very natural for the great bulk of the farmers to cast their ballots for the republican ticket because that party had declared in its platform a protective tariff. The farmer is in a position to judge for himself now whether or not his produce should be protected against the more cheaply produced grain of other countries. He got a liberal taste of free trade just before the election when he saw immense importations of wheat coming in from Canada and pulling down the price of his wheat until it will not bring the cost of production.

According to a government tabulation of statistics, there were im- portations of nearly 5,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat during the first half of October, and every indication was that the importations would increase rather than diminish. At the same rate, the total for the month would be around 10,000,000 bushels or nearly twice as much as had been imported in any previous month in the past seven years.

It is to be hoped that the farmers of America will give more than a passing thought to the subject, for the conditions that permit the im- portations are not new. Under the republican tariff law on the statute books prior to 1913 an import duty of 25 per cent ad valorem on wheat flour The Wilson-Underwood act of 1913 put wheat and wheat flour on the free list except that a duty of 10 cents per bushel on wheat and 45 cents per barrel on flour was charged on importations coming from any country charging a duty on American wheat and flour when exported.

This arrangement contained two vicious evils. One was the adoption of the policy of free trade and the other was the adoption of a plan which made it possible for the rival country to determine whether the United States should impose a duty. So long as Canada wanted to ship wheat and flour into the United States, she could do so without paying a duty. If, by any chance, circumstances should change in such a way as to make it desirable for Canada to charge a duty on American wheat, the nation could do so without asking permission of the United States. In other words, the democratic tariff law left it optional with Canada whether to have a tariff or free trade in wheat and

Ankles and knees sore and swollen pains in back over kidneys, stomach out of order and lost 50 pounds.

Draco gave complete relief, he declares.

"A blacksmith's work is no cinch when a man's well and it's mighty hard on anybody with rheumatism. After standing on my feet all day, the pain was so great I could hardly hobble home," said Mr. John Roberts, who is well known at the Kelcey Hame Factory, where he has been employed for the past 15 years and lives at 1216 E. Virginia St., Evansville, Ind.

"I've had rheumatism in my ankles and knees for twelve years and they were so swollen and painful, they kept me awake many a night. Kidneys didn't act as often as they should and my bowels wouldn't move unless I took a strong cathartic. Even milk and soup would bloat me up with gas.

Draco, the great herbal remedy acts on the stomach and aids in digesting the food; stops the formation of gas; relieves constipation, strengthens the kidneys, tones the liver and relieves biliousness, headaches, bitter taste in the mouth, heartburn, coated tongue and purifies the blood, thereby banishing rheumatism.

All druggists now sell Draco and it is being especially introduced in Rushville by F. B. Johnson & Co. Adv.

flour. It was a complete surrender to Canada—the adoption of a policy of leaving the American farmer open to free competition while giving the Canadian farmer opportunity to have a protective tariff at any time if his interests required.

It happened that Canada had no occasion to use this free market very extensively until the present harvest season. Soon after the enactment of the Wilson-Underwood tariff law, the war broke out and Canada had a ready market for her wheat in Europe. Some small shipments were made to the United States either for a special purpose or for re-shipment to Europe. But the competition with the American farmer was not left. The foreign market being almost unlimited, the American farmer did not then need a protective tariff.

But the time came when wheat producers in the United States did need an import duty—and they could not get it. Canada had complete control over the question whether the United States should or should not charge a duty, and of course, that country wanted the American market open, in accordance with democratic policies.

Bryan's revolutionary plan to place Mr. Harding in the White House immediately did not receive the notice which the revenge-taking Nebraskan expected.

Some of the explanations tend to convey the unintentional impression that the American people have voted for reactionary policies in rebuke of abandonment of liberal-

The Anti-Saloon League appears to have been well satisfied with all the results—with the possible exception of the popping of champagne corks among celebrating Americans in Paris.

The Woods

THE PLAYGROUND.

The city street, the city street,
Lies heavy on the town—
An awful quench of heat,
Whose rays of yellow summer beat
Upon the stones of brown,
Where little children's weary feet
Creep slowly up and down.

The houses rise, the houses rise,
Beside the thoroughfare;
Their windows look with bloodshot eyes
O'er huddled roofs to smoky skies,
And find no promise there;
And childhood's voice of laughter dies
In pestiferous air.

The city great, the city great—
It is so big a thing!
From city gate to city gate,
From sunmer-down to even late,
It throbs with marketing;
It has no moment it may wait
To hear the children sing.

The little ones, the little ones,
The buds that never bloom,
(While underneath the breathless suns
The stream of life forever runs
Through arteries of gloom),
Look on your stately Parthenons
And find so little room!

There is a street, another street,
Beyond the city's wall,
Beyond the corridors of heat,
Where waters pure and waters sweet
In crystal cadence fall—
And to the children's tiny feet
Their liquid measures call!

Its tenebrous, its tenebrous,
Are neither grim nor gray,
And from each verdant eminence
Their crimson-throated residents
Pour music to the day.
Their chorusing inabundant
Sing forth a song of praise.

O sunny slopes, O sunny slopes,
A way from slime and sin—
With dewy roots and grassy floors,
Where robin sings and swallow soars
When summer days begin
Oh, set us open wide the doors
And ask the children in!

There is nothing we hate to give up more than a prejudice.

This thing of getting things done by pushing a button is making plain work unpopular.

People who try to be comfortable and succeed have solved all the problem in life there is.

Suppose we say a word in praise of people who try to be decent, but don't get any credit for it.

The average man puts too much in his insides while women are apt to put too much on their outsides, except clothes.

Good Points About Failure.

SECOND NUMBER OF COURSE THURSDAY

Metropolitan Entertainment Trio
Will Appear at New Salem
School Auditorium

COMPANY IS DISTINGUISHED

The second number of the New Salem high school lecture course will be given Thursday night in the school auditorium, when the Metropolitan entertainment Trio will be the attraction. The winter lyceum course this year is being given by the junior class of the high school, owing to the fact that the school does not have a senior class this year.

The Metropolitan Trio have the distinction of being the first male trio to be placed in lyceum work for many years. The effect of the three fine men's voices in unison is surprising, many of their effects equalling that of male quartets, it is said.

The first purpose in the organization of the Metropolitan Trio was to furnish the public with a really fine singing organization of male voices at a cost no greater than that of inferior quartets.

The winter lyceum course will consist of two other numbers, one in December and the last one in March. The program Thursday night will begin at eight o'clock.

Men of Many Metals

Some people are rusty; their harsh, ungainly manners cut out whatever is good in their own character. Some people are gilt; a very brilliant exterior they present, but the first brush and hard using rubs off the gilding and reveals the base metal beneath. A third class are polished. The polish indeed is on the ruffianous crosses of human life, the ore it is rubbed the brighter it glows.

When a Doctor Sneezes

Doctors, out in all kinds of weather, suffer frequently from colds yet seldom seriously.

There's a good reason. Doctors realize the danger and upon appearance of the first symptoms of cold begin taking medicine to check its progress.

Amusements

Dorothy Dalton at Princess

All actresses who work simultaneously on stage and screen have certain definite health rules—they have adopted from experience. Dorothy Dalton, the Paramount star, who is recognized as one of the most physically perfect actresses today has this to say about keeping fit under such a strain:

"I have always taken the utmost care of myself, and have taken part in as many outdoor sports, such as swimming, riding and fishing, as possible, so, I suppose, I naturally had an unusually strong constitution to begin with. However, when I accepted the heavy role of Chrysis, in 'Aphrodite,' which I know would entail eight performances a week, I realized it would mean giving up social activities and 'buckle down' to nothing but work and rest."

"Practically the only exercise I could ever get was walking, and I assert that even ten minutes of honest-to-goodness hiking will do more for one than several hours of languid rambling. Some walking enthusiasts claim that if properly done, man needs no other form of exercise. Perhaps they are right, but I am too fond of other athletics to agree."

"The Heart of Twenty," Mystic
The heart of a lonely village girl is bared in "The Heart of Twenty," with ZaSu Pitts in the leading role which will be seen at the Mystic today.

Miss Pitts as Katie Abbott, the homely ward of a prim and puritanical maiden aunt, gives one of the best performances of her career as an eccentric comedienne of the screen. She delineates comedy and pathos with that deft touch and original finish which make her characterizations stand out so clearly.

Katie, in the midst of that period through which all women pass, when the urge of romance and adventure is at its strongest, is living an un-

interesting existence in an uninteresting middle-western town. Her hapless lot is made even more unbearable by the severity and lack of understanding displayed by her aunt. An incident occurs which drives her to distraction and she decides to "end it all."

And at this point of the story there is enacted a scene of delicious humor which is followed by others even more entertaining, if not so side-splitting. Only Miss Pitts could truthfully portray the role of Katie, and despite the rather severe demands made on her she is equal to every situation.

May Be Stylish
Even With "Hips"

By "MARJORIE"

New York, Nov. 16.—Fifth Avenue's showing of real midwinter dresser is playing some tricks on the straight-line chemise dress. A glimpse at the windows all bedecked with rich gowns for hurly-burly winter weather gives a strong hint that by springtide the dresses will be fuller and a wee bouffant. It is the uptown houses which exploit "original models and imported creations" that are ringing the knell of the "string bean dress". They are following the example of Paris which has swung away from the straightline dress for so long that it is about ready to swing back to it. America's swerve from a universally-becoming type of dress will be more gradual, however. The contrivers are using all their cleverness to merely fleck the gowns with some phase of new trend.

Thus, one of the leading gown houses of America is showing a collection of rich duvetyns and velvets whose main deviation from the lines of the chemise dress is found in the irregular hem line which curves upward at the front of the gown. The hem continues into a wide contrasting facing. Thus, a model of cochin brown velvet continues its up-and-down hem line into a wide front banding of marigold colored broadened satin. This upward sweeping front line is found in many of the late winter models and gives promise of a directoire or Empire line before long, as a high waistline seems to blend best with this mounting hem.

Other houses are sponsoring a new silhouette by inserting umbrella folds at the sides. Rich metallic brocades or satins are combined in this way with the main fabric of velvet, duvetyn, or a heavy wool velour. This exploitation of the hips is very contrary to the prevailing straight-line mode. Other hints of a coming season's bouffantness are given by horizontal pin tucks at the hips or fan-shaped pleatings of contrasting lighter-weight fabrics.

Panel at the sides are also being used. This fad is especially noted in black-and-white costumes. One house is showing an importation of wide wale white serge or twill banded and paneled in black satin. Small pearl buttons outline the bandings and hip panels. Panels by the way, are very chic when used as overtones. Another importing house is showing a street gown of midnight blue serge and black satin. The satin is used as a rather clinging underslip and the serge is the tunic. It is about knee-length and is cut into deep points of uneven length. Some of the points are edged with tiny silk tassels that flop about most piquantly.

Midwinter frocks, however, are not forsaking all the fashion decrees of the earlier fall season. They are more chary of the tinsel and embroidery that frosted the gowns of yestermorn, but they are exploiting the craze for insets of contrasting color and material. That naive little pastime which popular song epitomized some time ago, known as "looking through the knothole in father's wooden leg," had no view at all compared with that of the flip little rosettes, daisies, and other gewgaws that are poked through a slash or eyelet in the bodice or skirt of a gown or the front of a blouse.

One house is showing a new model of seal colored duvetyn. If it had seen the fabric "in the piece" would surely have been called damaged goods, for it is erratic, covered with oddly shaped holes and slashes. As made, however, the openings come at the top of the skirt, over the shoulders, and at the middle-front of the bodice. The apertures are filled in with almond colored chamois skin.

Other dresses are full of large eyelets embroidered in colored silk and filled in with tiny dabs of gossamer or even tufts of fur. One house is showing a gown of black velvet promiscuously slashed. The slashes are underlaid by ermine paillettes.

World's Greatest Dinner Party, Says Farm Paper

Article in Current Number of Farm Life by the Editor Deals With Community Event Here When Farmers and Their Wives Entertained Merchants

"The world's greatest dinner party." That's the way George Weymouth, editor of Farm Life, a monthly agriculture journal, described the community affair at the city park in September when the farmers of the county and their wives entertained the merchants, their families and employees. He was a guest at the dinner party and writes his observations as follows:

The ladies of the Rush County (Indiana) Farmers' Association gave a party the other day. I was one of the ten thousand chicken eating guests, and the other 9,999 agreed with me—and I agreed with them—that it was probably the world's greatest dinner party.

One thing is sure. If the organized farmers can pull off their business program with half the skill they show in their social programs, they will revolutionize the business of farming.

It is manifestly some big job to feed ten thousand people.

Chicken, ham, meat loaf, home-made bread of all varieties, potatoes, and sweet potatoes, beans, corn, every kind of salad, pies of all sorts, cakes, pickles, jams, jellies, hot coffee—everything fresh from the farm—big portions and second and third helpings for everybody that could manage to go back for more.

And the band played—the men bantered one another—the ladies smiled and beamed with friendly hospitality, and urged you to have "just a bite more" of chicken and another piece of pie. It was, indeed, the very top notch and climax, the apotheosis, of dinner parties.

The Rush county chicken dinner was really the payment of a social debt. Last March the business men of the county sent a get-together dinner to the Farmers' Association, which had just started its organization campaign.

In September, when it was decided to return the favor, Mrs. Bert Davidson was appointed county chairman and hostess in general. A township chairman, with a committee totaling fifteen ladies in each of the twelve townships, completed the executive staff. The county was divided up, and the ladies of the Farmers' Association—numbering about fourteen hundred provided the food and served the dinner.

All the business men in the county, with their clerks and helpers were invited—and for that occasion Rush county simply shut up shop. Stores, banks, shops and offices were closed all over the county, and everybody piled in the car and went to Rushville park for dinner.

Howard Ewbank, secretary of the Farmers' Association, whose staff of men were at the entrance checking up on the crowd, told me that before twelve o'clock about two thousand five hundred automobiles had arrived as nearly as we could estimate.

Everybody was tagged that day. The tag was not only an admission ticket but an identification card. Blue tags were worn by the farmers, when you met anybody you could tell at once his name and address and business. And since you had to have a tag to get in and since nobody wanted to miss the party a number of retired farmers and others who are eligible to membership in the association were hanging around the office of county Agent Ball very early in the morning, wanting to pay in their memberships fees and obtain admission tags to the party.

An address was made by John M. Dyer of Vincennes, and there were representatives from Purdue and from the state Farmers' federation. The motion picture man was there also and when you see the next Pathé Weekly Review perhaps the Rushville Farmers big dinner will flash before your eyes—A sign of the new times when the organized farmers are able to stage a big show.

SHOOTS DRIVER IN THE BACK

John Miller, Owner of Jitney Line, Sought Vengeance, He Said

(By United Press)
Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 16—In the midst of a traffic jam, P. Morgan, a jitney driver, was shot to death on Kansas City's busiest street corner Monday. John Miller, jitney passenger, was arrested and admitted the shooting. Morgan was shot five times in the back. Miller told the police he shot Morgan because he had lured his wife from her home. The police saved Miller from an angry mob who were determined to do violence to him. Morgan was an owner of several jitney and motor cars and Miller was employed as a driver.

For Over Seven Years

Back in the early part of 1913 this business was organized and started in a small frame building. Then came a move into larger quarters on account of increased patronage.

TODAY

We occupy our own plant. It is the third place we have occupied since our organization. Our patronage speaks for itself. Year after year we have expanded and added new equipment, which makes our plant today one of the finest in the state.

WE INVITE INSPECTION

Come, see for yourself, the different departments in operation. Work is taken care of in Rushville, and is not trusted to some cleaner in an out of town plant. Because of the trust people have placed in us, is only one reason why our plant has so successfully existed under the same management for over seven years.

This plant is the only plant in Rush County that is entitled to the name of "Master Cleaners."

"Think and Thank"
Suggested Motto
for Nation Today

"Think and Thank" was the motto upon the family crest of the great Hebrew philanthropist Sir Moses Montefiore. It would be an appropriate armorial motto for America today.
These two little English words, differing in a single vowel, were originally identical. In the Anglo-Saxon tongue, a "thank" was a "think." Thanking comes from thinking, and thankfulness from thoughtfulness and thanks giving from thought-giving. This will be a season of unusual thanksgiving—for we are made to think as we have not been wont to think. It will be a very selfish soul that this season fails to think of the sorrows and the sufferings of others.

Look back at that first American Thanksgiving. Strange skies, sparse settlements, sparse herds, savage enemy, but thankful spirit! What makes the memory of the Pilgrim so precious? His thankfulness! As Howell puts it:

"It is no improper comparison that a thankful heart is like a box of precious ointment which keeps the smell long after the thing is spent."

The Pilgrim and the Puritan have passed on, but they have left us a precious possession—a Thanksgiving day and the Thanksgiving spirit.
There was the indomitable spirit because they "thanked God and took courage." They landed undesignedly on a "rock-bound wintry strand," but they thanked God and took courage.
They found no gold, but they did find the golden grain of a first harvest and they thanked God and took courage.
They found a rude wilderness, but they thanked God and took courage,
and furrows were turned and towns were built and cities grew and factories flourished and culture developed and instead of a wilderness a garden blossomed and the fragrance of their memory still survives and the spirit of their grace still inspires.

THE ABERCROMBIE FARM

Order to divide up the Theodore Abercrombie estate among the heirs, the farm, known as the

lying Rushville at the city limits on the north and consisting of 265 more or less, is now offered for sale at private sale.

This is one of the best farms in Rush County, most of it having been in the family for fifty years and has been well taken care of and not neglected.

It is capable of division into two complete and separate farms—each with tenant houses, barns and other first class improvements. That part known as the "East Place" lies on the east side of Main street, and contains about one hundred and twelve acres, and that portion known as the "West Place" lies on the west side of Main Street, and consists of one hundred and fifty-three acres. Both farms extend down to the city street.

For farming purposes there are no better farms in Rush County than these, but they are further valuable because they lie right at the city limits on the north and adjacent to Rushville's finest residence section. Both farms are capable of sub-division into valuable city lots. Part of the farm has already been laid off into city lots, taken into the city and sold.

As the L. E. & W. R. R. bounds the farm on the west, and the Pennsylvania R. R. intersects a portion of the farm on the east, several fine city sites are available.

This land will be offered for sale as a whole or as two separate farms. The sale will be given on or before March first, 1921.

Some Reasons Why the Farmer Should Keep Thanksgiving

Just now, apart from our knowledge of food secure, perhaps some of us feel it necessary to fall back upon the private reasons for thankfulness. Each one has some bit of personal well-being that can be brought out and rubbed up and admired just to keep our home circle happy this Thanksgiving day. Each one knows their own cause for contentment, even where it is so commonplace as not to be distinctly visible to others. Especially this year we mustn't lose sight of the personal bright spots on account of their every-day character.

A person was once visiting a friend whose home commanded a beautiful stretch of mountain scenery. It was, in fact, a magnificent view. "What a wonderful outlook you have here," he remarked to his host. "I am sure if I lived here I should spend most of my time viewing the landscape." "Why, I never thought of it that way," his host replied. "I never considered it anything remarkable. I have simply taken it as a matter of course."

Thousands of people who live in the country enjoy a treasure which is denied to millions of their fellowmen—the blessing of good, pure, out-of-door air, fragrant in spring and summer with perfume of flowers or new-mown hay, and in fall and winter laden with crisp, life-giving ozone.

No one enjoys more blessings and treasures of this kind than the man or woman on the farm. He or she, if inclined to be of a complaining nature, is apt to find fault that life on the farm is so hard and composed so largely of drudgery. Furthermore, "far away fields are always green," and the one on the farm imagines that in the city all must be ease and contentment. These imaginings, however, will not stand the test of personal acquaintance with the life that is lived in the cities by hundreds of thousands of people. Farm work is hard, but there are no easy births in life.

The average person on the farm lives better, enjoys better air to breathe, better water to drink, better food to eat, better conditions under which to work, better health than the man or woman in corresponding circumstances in the city.

NOTICE FOR IMPROVEMENT OF A HIGHWAY IN RIPLEY TOWNSHIP, RUSH COUNTY, IND.

Notice is hereby given that a petition has been filed in my office for the grading and paving with gravel of a public highway in Ripley Township, Rush County, State of Indiana, which petition is signed by Fannie B. Wilson et al., and is in words and figures as follows, to-wit:

TO THE HONORABLE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS OF RUSH COUNTY, STATE OF INDIANA.

We, the undersigned petitioners, would represent and show to your honorable Board that this petition is signed by more than fifty adult freeholders and voters of Ripley Township, Rush County, Indiana, and that there is now established a public highway upon and over the following described lands, to-wit: Commencing at the southeast corner of the southeast quarter (4) of section nine (9), township fifteen (15) north, range nine (9) east, where the fork of the pike running north and south along the boundary line between Ripley and Center Townships intersects said corner; thence west on the line dividing sections nine (9) and sixteen (16), township fifteen (15) north, range nine (9) east, a distance of one hundred and ninety rods to a line dividing the lands of Fannie B. Wilson and Charles S. and Alice C. Wallace; thence north on the line dividing the lands of Fannie B. Wilson and Charles S. and Alice C. Wallace a distance of one hundred sixty (160) rods to the north line of the southeast quarter (4) of section nine (9), township fifteen (15) north, range nine (9) east; thence north on the line dividing the northeast and northwest quarters (4) of section nine (9) and the southeast and southwest quarters (4) of section four (4), same township and range aforesaid, a distance of two thousand sixty-seven (2667) feet to where said line would intersect what is known as the Carthage and Knightstown free turn-pike.

That there is no incorporated city or town in said Ripley township of more than thirty thousand inhabitants and the only incorporated city or town in said Ripley Township is the town of Carthage, which does not have 10,000 inhabitants.

Your petitioners would further represent and show that said public highway described herein as aforesaid should be improved by grading, draining and paving the same to the width of thirty-two feet the traveled portion thereof to be graded sixteen feet in width the entire length of said highway except for such portion thereof as may be proper to prevent washing away on each side where a creek known as "Three Mile" crosses said public highway that part of the same should be paved with concrete or other material with curb and necessary retaining walls, and that it will be of public utility to improve said public highway as aforesaid by grading, draining and paving the same with gravel to the width of sixteen feet in the center and traveled portion thereof and on each side of said traveled portion to the outside on each side thereof by grading the same and by the construction thereof with the aid of the necessary drains, side drains, bridges, culverts and sewers and when so constructed and improved it will be of great utility and the costs thereof will be less than the benefits derived therefrom.

That a Rural Free Mail Delivery Route traverses said public highway and the same is all in Ripley township, Rush County, State of Indiana, that it is less than one mile in length and connects at the north end thereof with the Knightstown and Carthage Free Gravel Road and at the east end thereof with the township boundary line between Center and Ripley townships.

Wherefore your petitioners pray of your honorable Board that the aforesaid public highway be improved by grading, draining and paving the same with gravel to the width of thirty-two feet and the traveled portion thereof to the width of sixteen feet the entire length, except for such distance as may be proper to prevent washing away on each side of bridge to be constructed thereon where a creek known as "Three Mile" crosses said public highway the same should be paved with concrete together with curb and necessary retaining walls, and the remainder thereof on either side to be graded and drained as may be necessary and not less than thirty-two feet in width its entire length and that all necessary drains, side drains, bridges, culverts and sewers be constructed thereon and thereupon so as to make said public highway a modern, complete and improved gravel highway as by law provided; that said improvement be constructed and said highway be improved as hereinbefore described and prayed for in accordance with sections 62 to 83 inclusive of the Acts of the General Assembly of the State of Indiana in the year 1905 relating to the improvement of highways and all acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto.

William A. Hall, J. Hooker Wilson, Fannie B. Wilson, Arthur W. Foxworth, Charles S. Wallace, William S. Paulley, Jesse E. Kiser, J. B. Norris, Harry R. Leisure, Walter Mesul, Byron Ball, Rowland H. Hill, Van Houd, H. H. Henley, E. N. Hill, A. W. Vineland, R. H. Henley, Frank E. Edwards, Charley Faust, Jesse E. Hill, J. H. McCarty, Bert Sharer, William Henley, Roy Matix, C. G. Hill, James Degolyer, John G. Callaway, Otto H. Dewitt, O. J. Short, Walter Rhodes, Edgar W. Ruby, E. Anderson, J. A. Tiedt, Jesse M. Stone, Butler Hill, Jesse Henley, Charles W. Miner, Clarkson Gauss, Cornelia N. Koons, J. O. Sears, Jas. McGeorge, Minnie Ruby.

Said petition will be presented to the Board of Commissioners of Rush County, Indiana, on the 16th day of December, 1920, (the same being a day in regular session of the Board of Commissioners of said County, Indiana) and the Board of Commissioners of said County, Indiana, will hear and determine upon the same.

Witness my hand and seal of the Board of Commissioners of Rush County, Indiana, this 8th day of November, 1920.

BRYAN IS FIRM FOR WILSON RESIGNATION

Declares That he Should Let Harding Take Charge of Affairs at Once in Washington

OUTLINES IDEA ON SUBJECT

New York, Nov. 15—No enemy could wish President Wilson anything worse than he should resign from his office and allow President-elect Harding take the chair, thus postponing world peace through American cooperation, William Jennings Bryan declared in an interview today.

He outlined his reasons why he believed and thought the rest of this nation believed, President Wilson should resign and let Harding take charge of the affairs at once, as follows:

"Everyone knows that the one matter on the president's heart is world peace. He believes that our nation could gladly aid in promotion of peace by cooperation with other nations. The president hopes for this cooperation in the terms of the covenant as presented to the senate.

"The people object to this plan as they have shown in the endorsement of Harding's plan of an association of nations. It is not likely that Wilson will try to fight for his plan against Harding's ideas and the Republican senate will not permit him if he tries. Therefore the only promotion that can be made toward cooperation with other nations is along Harding's plan and let Mr. Harding carry it out."

Shorty gets an earfull!

Friday

Howdy from New Orleans, PETE!

Say, old clock, you've got the time—maybe you'd like to hear this one! As we were rolling into New Orleans yesterday one of the men in the club car was recounting his cigarette experiences; how he finally pulled a trick on his luck and got set right!

"Well, I've had my cigarette lesson", continued the traveller, "I went up and down the line on cigarettes until I got hold of Camels and got deep into their quality and mildness and delightful flavor! There never was a blend such as Camels combination of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos! I'll say it—Camels taught me what a cigarette should be and they'll teach any man who smokes!" Thinks I to myself — "Sic 'em, judge, every word you spill is a sentence!"

Now, Pete, that's the kind of Camel thanksgiving stuff you get North, East, South, West and through the middle! That's all as true as that little sheep will wag their tails!

I did some tall thinking as I browsed through the quaint old French quarter this evening—how universal the appeal of Camel cigarettes really is! Figure the travelling I've done and the people I've met — each city different from the other — AND Camels have been the ONE cigarette to be found everywhere—and the cigarette most smoked at each point! Pete, old backstop, it's wonderful the way smokers are sliding home to Camels!

Dallas, Texas, for me!

Yours

OFFICIALS PROBE A DOUBLE MURDER

Witnesses Tell of Fight Between Two Women and Men Where Chicago Tragedy Occurred.

DEAD GIRLS ACTRESSES

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 16—Authorities investigating the deaths of two actresses on Saturday night were informed today that two women answering their description, were in a fight in an automobile with two men in a park where the tragedy occurred. The witnesses stated that the fight occurred where the physicians judged that the women died.

This was the first information of the fight which the police believed might lead to a solution of the mystery which surrounds the deaths of the two actresses, Mary Rhodes, of Altoona, Pa., and Lillian Thompson, of Boston, which was given in on a telephone call to the undertaking rooms where the bodies are now being held.

Police questioned the witnesses who saw the fight. They stated that one woman was forced into the automobile by two men. One of the men was fighting with the woman. The other woman came to the aid of her companion but was pushed away. The witness who saw the fight stated that he went to the assistance of the two women but was told to beat it, and in fear for his wife went away.

Five men were being held today in connection with the mystery.
